

Miles per Gallon

A car holds 16 gallons of gasoline and can travel 350 miles before refueling. Write a program that calculates the number of miles per gallon the car gets. Display the result on the screen.

Direction: Provide for the source code and the console screen after a successful run of your program.